Justin S. Dunbar has nearly twenty years of experience representing insurance companies and their insured businesses and individuals in complex automobile and premises liability claims, as well as property claims.

His experience in both private practice and in-house at a major insurance company provides his clients with a well-rounded perspective on insurance claims. Justin has also served as an Assistant Attorney General for the Maryland Department of Labor (formerly known as "DLLR") providing legal services to many of Maryland's business and professional occupation boards and commissions. Justin is licensed to practice in all Maryland State and Federal Courts, and before various administrative agencies and the Office of Administrative Hearings.
